One Church, One World, One Mission:
Internationalization and the Identity of Catholic Higher Education
September 9, 2017
Invitation and Call for Proposals

The Catholic Consortium for International Higher Education Collaboration (CCIHEC) invites you to its inaugural workshop in Rome, Italy, on September 9, 2017. The workshop theme is “One Church, One World, One Mission: Internationalization and the Identity of Catholic Higher Education.”

The 2017 CCIHEC workshop will provide a forum for international education leaders, faculty, and staff to engage in dialogue on higher education internationalization in the context of the Catholic identity.

The CCIHEC is currently seeking proposals for the 2017 workshop for presentations covering the following topics:

- The Relationship Between the Catholic Identity and Internationalization Strategic Plans
- The Role of International Education in the Face of Global Issues in Light of our Catholic Mission

A 250-word or less proposals should detail strategic initiatives at the presenter’s university and how these relate to one of the topics above. Presentations should be limited to a maximum of 10 minutes to provide ample time for discussion.

The registration fee for attendees and presenters is $150 USD. Please submit all registration requests and proposals to Erin Niday at niday@cua.edu by June 30, 2017.
